SUPER HOT

Games will become more and more immersive and playing a game will become being in a game.

Mario 64 was one of the most if not the most influential 3D games of that era. It showed developers what was possible and found purpose for previously "outdated features."

PONG

The First Game ever made!

Atari launched the game in 1972. And in 1975 you could play the game home on a gameconsole

Minecraft started as an indie game where the players had unlimited options to go on an survival adventure or build their own world. Now it is the most sold game worldwide with over 200 million sales.

MINECRAFT

The first full coloured game and came out in 1979!

The first fixed shooter however was Space Invaders
